Rick Phillips

Sound Advice

Date: Tuesday, December 16, 2003

Time: 7:30 pm

Place: Image Arts Building, 3rd floor
Ryerson University

Corner of Bond and Gould, downtown Toronto
one block east of Yonge St (Dundas Subway)

There will be a social with refreshments after the meeting.

Presenter: Rick Phillips, CBC Radio

Join Rick Phillips, the Host and Producer of CBC Radio's Sound Advice, for a look into some aspects of the recording of classical music from basic forms and style, to various pick-up possibilities and techniques, including comparisons of the same work from different recordings.

Afterwards, stay for refreshments as AES Toronto holds its annual Christmas social.

About this month's presenter...

Rick Phillips

Rick Phillips is the Host and Producer of SOUND ADVICE, heard across Canada on both CBC Radio One and Radio Two every weekend. SOUND ADVICE is the weekly guide to classical music and recordings, with an average weekly audience of 500,000 ranging from university professors, professional musicians and record collectors, to children and newcomers to classical music.

Rick has been affiliated with CBC Radio for 25 years, working in Montreal, Edmonton, Calgary and Toronto. He's been a Producer and Executive Producer of such programs as R.S.V.P., STEREO MORNING and ARTS NATIONAL.

As well as broadcasting, Rick is also a busy freelance writer and reviewer, lecturer, panel moderator, consultant and concert host. He leads a variety of Music History & Appreciation courses at the Royal Conservatory of Music, the University of Toronto and other venues. He holds a B. Mus. from McGill University and a M. Mus. from the University of Toronto.
